

Percentage of People Served by Community Water Systems Who Received Drinking Water That Met All Applicable Health-based Standards of the Safe Drinking Water Act, Maine, 2000-2010

Year	Percent of people served by community water systems who received safe drinking water
2000	61.6%
2001	64.8%
2002	88.2%
2003	88.8%
2004	93.3%
2005	92.5%
2006	92.1%
2007	91.9%
2008	90.6%
2009	92.0%
2010	92.8%
US 2010	94.0%

Data source: Safe Drinking Water Information System (SDWIS)/ US EPA

49.7% of Maine residents live in communities with public water systems, while the remaining 50.3% have private wells or get their water from small private systems (2011 population data.)

There are 380 community water systems in Maine. Some of these systems serve more than one town. The number of people served by a particular water system varies by location.